

Outstanding Student Leader Award

LEUNG CHING

Associate of Science in Environmental Studies

To no one's surprise, Ching received a lot of compliments from teachers in the College. Ching has involved herself in various environmental activities, like being a volunteer for Ocean Park Conservation Foundation and Organic Ambassador Training Scheme to promote the nature and green lifestyle to the public. In the College, she was nominated to be the chief mentor of her programme. She organised orientation day and orientation camp for the freshmen and led other classmates to organise various events for her peers.
